

COMCAST ADVERTISING

ADVERTISING CONTENT GUIDELINES

Comcast Advertising (“Comcast”) endeavors to present its viewers with advertisements that are both tasteful and truthful. Accordingly, the Comcast Advertising Content Guidelines (“Guidelines”) were developed to help advertisers and their representatives, including advertising agencies and legal counsel, create such advertisements.

These guidelines apply to (1) advertising being aired on Comcast/Xfinity cable systems and other MVPD’S where Comcast is authorized to sell the advertising availabilities (the “Cable Services”), (2) display and video advertising being distributed on Comcast owned or operated websites (such websites, the “Online Properties”), applications and/or other IP-based services (collectively with the Online Properties, the “Online Services”), and (3) advertising being distributed on Comcast’s video-on-demand platform, including advertising being dynamically inserted (“VOD”) (the Online Services, VOD and the Cable Services, collectively referred to as the “Services”).

Each advertiser and its representative is responsible for ensuring that its advertising materials are in compliance with all applicable laws and governmental regulations, including the rules of the Federal Communications Commission (“FCC”), the Federal Trade Commission (“FTC”), and the Federal Drug Administration, as well as Comcast’s Guidelines.

Advertisements will not be reviewed until an order to buy is placed with a Comcast salesperson. All decisions to accept advertisements are subject to reconsideration at any time and an advertisement’s flight may be suspended if, for example, new facts are presented or ascertained by Comcast that undermine any substantiation submitted with such advertisements. All VAST tags are subject to regular review by Comcast. In the event an advertiser, without seeking the prior approval of Comcast, replaces an advertisement being distributed using a VAST tag with another advertisement using that same VAST tag, Comcast may, in its sole discretion, reject or refuse to distribute the advertisement.

Comcast requires all advertisers to provide substantiation that establishes a reasonable basis for all claims made in their advertisements. Advertisers should submit substantiation with the initial submission of the proposed advertising. If applicable, Comcast will request authentication of all demonstrations, testimonial statements, and any required releases. For final approval, advertisers must submit a copy of the final advertisement.

Final acceptance of any advertisement is within the sole discretion of Comcast. Comcast reserves the right to (1) require revisions to advertisements; (2) accept or reject any advertisements at any time; (3) revoke approval of any advertisements at any time; and (4) investigate any advertiser and the accuracy of all statements and claims in any advertisement.

ADULT PRODUCTS AND NUDITY

Comcast does not accept video, audio, graphic or text-based advertising for adult products (films, magazines, websites, sex toys, etc.) or advertising that promotes pornography. This includes, but is not limited to:

- Sexually suggestive images, photographs or drawings (example: proactive posing and/or nudity).
- Sexually suggestive ad text (example: click here to take something off).
- Advertisements dealing with products relating to sexual performance/enhancements (including herbal and topical supplements) and reproductive related services (not including prescription drugs or FDA approved medical products/devices).

Content involving sexual or excretory activities and organs, depiction of total or partial nudity, or advertising that is in whole or in part obscene, vulgar, repulsive or offensive, either in theme or in treatment, is prohibited.

Plastic surgery and other medical-related advertisers (e.g., prescription drugs or services for erectile dysfunction, Peyronie’s disease, etc.) may advertise on the Services subject to creative approval. Before/After shots with excessive nudity are not permitted.

Comcast will accept advertising content dealing with adult entertainment clubs, novelty stores, and products relating to sexual performance [e.g. condoms, KY] and/or reproductive related services on a case-by-case basis and subject to prior legal review. Both the advertising creative and website content will be evaluated to determine approval to run.

ALCOHOL

Subject to the restrictions below, Comcast accepts advertisements for beer, malt beverages, hard liquor/distilled spirits and wine (collectively, “Alcoholic Products”). It is the advertiser’s responsibility to ensure that any advertising for Alcoholic Products fully complies with all applicable laws, regulations, and industry guidelines. Advertising remedies for “hangover” or other side effects of alcohol ingestion are not acceptable.

Advertisements for Alcoholic Products may NOT:

- employ any symbol, language, music, gesture, entertainment figure, group or character that is intended to appeal primarily to persons below the legal purchase age.
- portray, encourage or condone drunk driving.
- depict situations where alcohol is consumed in excess [images of minimum consumption is permitted].

In accordance with federal Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau (“TTB”) regulations, all Alcoholic Products advertisements (does not include establishments promoting the availability of Alcoholic Products) must include a legible disclosure of the corporate name, city, and state of the brewer, producer, packer, wholesaler or importer responsible for its broadcast. Distilled spirits advertisements also must include the percentage of alcohol by volume.

ANIMALS

The use of animals in advertisements must be in conformity with accepted standards of humane treatment. If animals are featured prominently in an advertisement, the advertiser may be required by Comcast, in its sole discretion, to provide a letter from the Humane Society or from the animal trainer on set indicating that the animals were treated in conformity with accepted standards of humane treatment.

ASTROLOGY, HOROSCOPES, PSYCHIC SERVICES

All advertising for astrology, character reading, fortune telling, mind reading, numerology, occultism, palm reading, phrenology, psychic services, horoscopes, and other related services must clearly state and disclaim in the ad (or, in the case of ads on the Online Services, resulting jump page, if applicable) that the service is for entertainment purposes only. The advertising may not state or imply that there is any scientific grounds or validity to such services. Advertising in this category should avoid exaggerated promises of wealth or good fortune.

CANNABIDIOL (“CBD”)

Comcast accepts advertisements promoting cosmetic products (e.g., lotions, creams, skin masks) containing non-intoxicating hemp-derived cannabidiol (“Hemp-derived CBD,” as defined below) in states that have not prohibited the sale, manufacture, or use of such products, so long as they meet the criteria below (“Hemp-Derived Cosmetic Products”). A cosmetic product is a product that is intended to be rubbed, poured, sprinkled or sprayed on, introduced into, or otherwise applied to the human body or any part of the human body for cleansing, beautifying, promoting attractiveness, or altering the appearance.

Advertisements promoting drugs, food products, beverages, tinctures, dietary supplements, animal food, animal drugs, tobacco products, and medical devices that contain or are marketed as containing Hemp-Derived CBD are prohibited.

A cosmetic product (including transdermal patches) may be deemed a drug if it is intended for use in the diagnosis, cure, mitigation, treatment, or prevention of disease in humans, or if it is intended to affect the structure or function of the human body. If an advertisement expressly states or implies that the cosmetic product does anything other than cleanse, beautify, promote attractiveness, or alter the appearance of the consumer, the product could be deemed to be a “drug,” and is prohibited.

1. The advertisements make no explicit or implicit claims about the health, therapeutic, or medicinal benefits of the Hemp-Derived Cosmetic Product(s) or the Hemp-Derived CBD;

ILLICIT DRUGS/DRUG PARAPHERNALIA

Advertising for illegal drugs, including medical and recreational marijuana, habit-forming drugs, drug-paraphernalia or retail establishments that promote these products is prohibited (except for advertisements on the Cable Services as indicated below, which will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis). Advertising for cannabidiol (CBD) products is prohibited.

Advertisements Advocating for the Legalization of Marijuana: Comcast will only accept advertisements related to Marijuana if the advertisement is an issue/advocacy advertisement advocating for or against the legalization of marijuana. The advertisements may not (i) depict drugs or the use of drugs, (ii) utilize slang terms for the substance, or (iii) depict persons who appear to be under the influence of the drug. All spots must have a “sponsored by” or “paid for by” tag.

Comcast will not accept advertisements for clinics, dispensaries, seminars, consulting businesses, tutorials, etc.

Drug Paraphernalia: Advertisements for establishments whose inventory includes products/devices associated with the use of illegal drugs are not acceptable.

INJURIOUS OR PREJUDICIAL TO THE PUBLIC OR Comcast

Advertising may be rejected if its content or other content referenced in the ad or otherwise disseminated by the advertiser is grossly offensive (e.g. on racial, religious or ethnic grounds) or may be injurious or prejudicial to the interest of the public or to Comcast. Content or portrayal of practices that demean, ridicule, or attack individuals or groups on the basis of age, color, national origin, race, religion, sex, sexual orientation, physical or mental handicap, or similar inappropriate criteria are prohibited.

INJURIOUS OR PREJUDICIAL TO THE PUBLIC OR Comcast

Advertising by third parties that states or purports to state an opinion of Comcast Corporation or any of its affiliates is also prohibited unless pre-approved by Comcast.

MEDICAL SERVICES AND PRODUCTS

Spot, VOD and Online:

Comcast will accept advertising that offers discounts off of or coupons for (i) services offered by licensed medical providers or hospitals or (ii) prescription drugs, as long as they are within reason. Any images or photos in the advertisement must be in good taste and appropriate for children.

Online:

To avoid any click thru restrictions, we recommend including a warning before any graphic or nude content is displayed. If a warning message is included, the landing page will not be restricted.

MONEY-MAKING OPPORTUNITIES

It is the advertiser's responsibility to ensure that any advertising for money making opportunities (e.g. MLM, work at home products, etc.) discloses all material terms that an ordinary person would require in making a fully informed judgment about whether to purchase the product or service being offered.

Advertiser must substantiate all claims in the advertisement.

Comcast does not accept advertising for pyramid or get-rich-quick schemes that promise guaranteed employment or earnings, or otherwise provide misleading information to potential participants.

NBCU TALENT, LOGOS, CONTENT & SHOW MENTIONS

Use or mentions of NBCU shows, talent, logos, and content (e.g., video clips and still images) is prohibited.

OVER-THE-COUNTER MEDICATIONS

All over the counter ("OTC") medications being advertised must be approved by the Food & Drug Administration ("FDA").

It is the advertiser's responsibility to ensure that all health-related claims for OTC medications, including any claims with respect to the efficacy of the product, are properly substantiated with reliable scientific and/or clinical evidence.

Advertisements can promote only occasional use for the treatment of minor to moderate conditions and must clearly advise consumers to follow label directions. Advertising for "non-label" uses of OTC products (uses not formally recognized by the FDA - e.g. taking aspirin to prevent heart attack), are not permitted.

PERSONAL ATTACKS

An advertisement may be rejected if it is merely an attack of a personal nature, a direct attack on an individual or business, or comment on a private dispute.

PERSONAL PRODUCTS

Comcast may accept advertisements for personal products (e.g. tampons, sanitary pads, feminine hygiene products, incontinence products), subject to the following:

- products are presented with care and sensitivity.
- advertising does not contain health claims.
- all visuals or copy are in good taste, appropriate and not overly graphic.
- graphic representations dealing with body function and mechanics are not allowed.

PHARMACEUTICALS/ PRESCRIPTION DRUGS/PHARMACIES

It is the advertiser's responsibility to ensure that all "Direct to Consumer" prescription drug advertising complies with all applicable FDA regulations, guidelines and standards for such advertising.

Prescription drugs may only be advertised for uses approved by the FDA; "off-label use" advertising is prohibited. Advertisements for medications that are not FDA-approved, including compounded medications, are not permitted.

Advertisements must clearly advise consumers to consult a healthcare professional or call their doctor. Advertisements must clearly state that the advertised product is available by prescription, only. Comcast does not accept advertisements that state or imply that prescription drugs may be obtained without a prescription or on the basis of an online questionnaire or online consultation.

PIRACY AND INFRINGING ACTIVITY

An advertisement may be deemed unacceptable if it is for a service, product or other mechanism that is used to infringe the intellectual property rights of others. Infringing activity includes, but is not limited to:

- The illegal dissemination of content, or the selling or offering of content on an unauthorized platform or by an unauthorized user in a way that infringers the intellectual property rights of the owner of such content;
- The circumvention of restrictions imposed by an owner of content with regard to the geographic reach of its content or other viewing options deemed permissible by such owner;
- The circumvention of copyright, trademark, or other proprietary notices marked by an owner of content; or
- Uploading, sharing, obtaining, modifying, or accessing content in a way that was not intended or authorized by the owner of such content.

Comcast reserves the right to:

- Request additional materials from advertiser to address any suspected infringing activity or acts of piracy, including evidence of advertiser's efforts to control, combat, and prevent such infringing activity or acts of piracy;
- Require revisions to an advertisement;
- Reject advertisements from advertisers that have a demonstrated history of infringing on the rights of content owners; or
- Reject an advertisement at any time in response to situations of unusual significance.

An advertisement for a service, product or other mechanism that is used for infringing activity may be rejected regardless of whether such infringing activity is featured in the advertisement.

PRICING & PRICE CLAIMS

It is the advertiser's responsibility to ensure that all price claims (including advertising that claims to offer items for "free") are: (a) not deceptive or misleading; (b) properly substantiated and (c) comply with all applicable state and federal laws.

"Bait and switch" advertising, in which the user is offered a product the advertiser has no intention of selling as a method of luring the user into purchasing a more expensive product, is not permitted.

If content contains an offer that expires on a date certain, the content may not be scheduled beyond the expiration date of that offer.

PRODUCTS OF QUESTIONABLE LEGALITY

Also prohibited is advertising for any product or service which is illegal or has no legitimate use in the country, state, county, or municipality where the advertisement appears.

PROFANITY

Advertising may not contain profanity, other than use of the words "hell" or "damn" (and, if such words are used, such advertisements may be subject to additional restrictions with respect to timing/placement on the particular Service). Advertisements that have "bleeps" in lieu of the profanity must extend for the entire length of the profane word being uttered and the profane word cannot otherwise be discernable by the viewer. In some cases, it may be necessary to pixelate a mouth.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES

Advertising for professionals (lawyers, doctors, CPAs, dentists, psychologists and other established, recognized professionals) may not contain professional advice or other materials that would, under a reasonable standard of care, ordinarily be given in the presence of a practitioner-client relationship. It is the advertiser's responsibility to ensure that all professional advertising complies with the relevant and applicable ethical standards for that profession.

PROGRAM TUNE-IN & MOTION PICTURE ADVERTISEMENTS

Comcast will accept "tune in" spots and will not accept "tune away" spots. Tune in spots encourage viewers to tune in to programming on a particular network (e.g. "tonight", "tonight at 10" and "tonight on a [specific network]"). Tune away spots encourage viewers to immediately tune away from a particular network, program or service (e.g. "switch," "watch now," and "on now"). Advertisements with VOD Telescoping are permitted.

All advertising for domestic theatrical films must include an MPAA rating in a font large enough to be read by viewers. Comcast may accept on a case-by-case basis advertising for films pending a rating provided that the advertisement discloses in the video that the film "has not yet been rated."

Films or programs with "NC-17", "MA" or "R" ratings will be approved on a case-by-case basis, taking into account the content of the advertisement and the film and/or program. Comcast may impose daypart restrictions on approved advertisements in this category.

Films with a "PG-13" rating are allowed on "TV-14" programming and may be permitted on programming with "G" and "PG" ratings on a case-by-case basis. Films with an "R" rating may be allowed on "TV-14" programming on a case-by-case basis.

"X-rated" and similar "adult" films are not acceptable.

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENTS (PSA)

Public Service Announcements ("PSAs") are meant to inform the public of the work of charitable, governmental and non-profit organizations and other services available to the public. PSAs must be consistent with the objectives of the sponsoring organization, must accurately reflect the organization identified with the spot, and all claims must be substantiated.

Discussions of controversial issues of public importance or religious doctrine are not permitted in PSAs. PSAs that show or reference commercial products, services or corporate names are not acceptable. PSAs in which funds are requested will be reviewed on a case-by-case basis. Paid commercials for, or on behalf of, non-profit or for-profit organizations are permitted. In all instances the identity of the sponsor must be clearly set forth in the advertisement with a "paid for by" or "sponsored by" tag (See Sponsorship ID Section).

RELIGIOUS ADVERTISING

All advertisements that relate to religious or charitable organizations or causes will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis. Comcast will, in its discretion, accept advertisements for the sale of products that have a religious theme (e.g., books, recordings, artifacts). Religious books, periodicals, or other products depicted in advertisements may be reviewed by Comcast to ensure that they do not disparage any group or individual or otherwise violate these advertising guidelines. Comcast may accept advertisements of a general nature on behalf of religious organizations, for the announcement of meetings, religious services, or for the promotion of approved public service and charitable activities. Comcast accepts religious advertisements that express divergent points of view.

Religious advertisements must have a sponsorship tag if the content of the advertisement does not clearly indicate the entity paying for the advertising.

By way of example, the following forms of religious advertising are unacceptable:

- Advertising that states (or implies) superiority/exclusivity.
- Advertising that is disparaging to another religion, group, or individual.
- Advertising that proselytizes sectarian doctrine or dogma.
- Advertising that solicits funds.

SIMULATED ERROR MESSAGES & INTERACTIVITY IN DISPLAY ADVERTISING

Advertisements that in Comcast' sole discretion are likely to misdirect or mislead the user in any manner are not permitted. For example, they may not mimic or resemble the GUI elements or the "look-and-feel" of the Online Services.

SIMULATED ERROR MESSAGES & INTERACTIVITY IN DISPLAY ADVERTISING

Comcast will not accept advertising for display on the Online Services that mimics or resembles error messages or Windows/Mac/Unix dialogue boxes.

Comcast reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to accept or reject advertisements for display on the Online Services that contain graphics that simulate interactivity (i.e., drop down menus, search boxes etc.) where no such interactivity exists.

SIMULATED NEWS ITEMS

Advertisements may not contain audio or visual approaches or formats that could confuse the viewers as to the origin of the material being distributed. Techniques including news language such as “We interrupt this program (commercial) to bring you...” “Bulletin,” “Flash,” “This just in,” “Breaking News,” newsroom settings, call letters or numbers, and teletype sound may be accepted on a case-by-case basis only if the advertisement contains a prominent disclaimer stating that it is an advertisement, and the disclaimer remains on screen for the duration of the advertisement.

SOCIAL MEDIA

Advertisements on the Services may not include logos for social media companies such as Facebook and Twitter, unless explicitly permitted by such social media company’s branding guidelines or otherwise approved by such company in writing.

Acceptable advertiser content may make statements such as, “find us on Facebook” or “check out our Facebook site.” Verbal mentions of the Facebook location where an advertiser has a presence are also acceptable. Written reference social media sites may be used if the references do not imitate the logo fonts and color scheme of the social media site.

SOLICITATION OF DONATIONS

Advertisements seeking donations or soliciting funds will be evaluated on a case-by-case basis, but are permitted only under the following circumstances:

- Proof of 501(c) (3) registration of the organization seeking donations.
- Special public interest consideration.
- Requests for donations must be tied to a charitable cause (i.e. cancer research, homelessness, or other organization benefitting the community).

SPONSORSHIP IDENTIFICATION

Identification of sponsors must be made in all advertisements in accordance with the requirements of the Communications Act and the rules and policies of the FCC (47 C.F.R. §76.1615).

- Sponsorship ID is required whenever consideration is received for running any programming, whether in the form of money, goods, services, or even an agreement to promote the sponsor in any way.
- This rule applies to paid PSAs (whether from government agencies, charitable organizations, trade associations, political PACS, public interest groups, churches or religious groups, etc.), issue ads of any type (see attached 1991 FCC Public Notice), and any advertisements that are not clearly for a commercial product or service.
- The sponsor is the person or entity who paid for the ads. (The FCC does not require the media to determine and specify the person or persons who may be behind the named PAC, public interest group or other sponsor.)
- There is an exception to the “paid for” or “sponsored by” requirement that applies ONLY to commercial products or services, when the mention of the sponsor’s name or product makes clear that it is a commercial message for that product or service. Commercial products and services are things like automobiles, soft drinks and fast food. Commercial products and services do not include, for example, issue ads, or ads placed by government agencies, trade associations or public interest groups.

SPONSORSHIP ID FORMAT:

- Proper sponsorship ID must contain the words “paid for” or “sponsored by.” A mere web address is NOT sufficient.
- Sponsorship ID for political candidates must be in type that occupies at least four percent of the screen and lasts at least four seconds. It is the cable operator’s legal responsibility to make sure this sponsorship ID is there and complies with this requirement.

Other Considerations: A copyright notice does not constitute adequate sponsorship identification. A website URL does not necessarily constitute adequate sponsor identification unless it is the official name of the sponsoring entity.

SUBLIMINAL PERCEPTION

The use of subliminal perception techniques is generally unacceptable. Any advertiser who would like to include any content that is not readily discernable to viewers watching the advertisement in real time must submit all frames of that material to the Legal Department for review, along with information detailing how the advertiser plans to alert the public to the content. Any such content may not include a sales pitch.

TELEMEDICINE

Advertisements for any platform, including applications and services using two-way video, and other forms of telecommunications technology, that facilitates the use of medical information exchanged from one site to another via electronic communications to (1) diagnose and treat patients and (2) sell and deliver prescription drugs and/or other regulated healthcare products, including dietary supplements and over the counter drugs (“Telemedicine Platform”) are permitted, provided the advertiser:

- Operates legally and has a physical address and telephone number in the United States; and
- Complies with applicable FDA, FTC and state laws and regulations.

Advertisements must include a clear disclosure of the availability and all applicable limitations, exclusions and restrictions of the Telemedicine Platform’s services. In addition, Telemedicine Platforms advertising prescription drug services must also comply with applicable FDA regulations and the following:

- Advertisements must not encourage self-diagnosis and self-treatment.
- Advertisements must include messaging that directs viewers that consultation with a doctor will be required to access prescription drug services.
- Advertisements that mention a specific drug or contain a representation of a drug in combination with claims about the drug must disclose the risks and all other information as applicable, in accordance with FDA regulations.
- Advertisers must submit a letter from the advertiser’s legal counsel certifying that the Telemedicine Platform:
 - Only sells or facilitates the sale of FDA-approved prescription drugs;
 - Does not dispense drugs solely on the basis of an online questionnaire except where permitted under applicable telemedicine state laws or regulations with a pre-existing patient-prescriber relationship that has included a face-to-face physical examination.
 - Has a licensed pharmacist that is reasonably accessible during regular business hours to address consumer inquiries.
 - Provides consumers access to the drug's FDA-approved prescribing information.
 - Requires a valid prescription from a doctor or other licensed health care professional authorized to prescribe under applicable laws in the state where the consumer is located.
 - Operates its pharmacy shipping services legally and only in states where such pharmacies are licensed by the state board of pharmacy, or equivalent state agency.

TOBACCO AND TOBACCO SHOPS

Comcast does not accept advertising for cigarettes, little cigars, smokeless tobacco, electronic cigarettes/inhalers, vapor or vaping products, chewing tobacco, snuff tobacco, or products that promote smoking or tobacco use. Hookah pipes are acceptable with prior Legal Department approval.

Advertisements that depict the use of tobacco products are prohibited, except that:

- On a case-by-case basis, Comcast will consider advertisements that are anti-smoking in nature (e.g., youth smoking prevention campaigns by tobacco companies).
- Advertisements for “stop smoking” products (e.g., patches, 12-step programs, etc.) are acceptable.
- Advertisements for clinics and products for the purpose of assisting people to stop smoking are acceptable.
- Advertisements that depict smoking as a prop shall be reviewed on a case-by-case basis.

Advertising for other tobacco products (pipes, cigars, hookahs on a case by case basis), related paraphernalia and stores specializing in such products may be accepted, but no form of or reference to prohibited content shall be included with acceptable content, including, but not limited to, the use of generic descriptive terms (i.e., “tobacco products” or “tobacco”) anywhere in the spot, excluding the name of the establishment or the establishment’s logo. There shall be no depiction of pricing or the use of any form of tobacco.

Every cigar package and advertisement in the United States is required to clearly and prominently display one of the five following warnings on a rotating basis:

- SURGEON GENERAL WARNING: Cigar Smoking Can Cause Cancers of The Mouth and Throat, Even If You Do Not Inhale.
- SURGEON GENERAL WARNING: Cigar Smoking Can Cause Lung Cancer and Heart Disease.
- SURGEON GENERAL WARNING: Tobacco Use Increases the Risk of Infertility, Stillbirth and Low Birth Weight.
- SURGEON GENERAL WARNING: Cigars Are Not a Safe Alternative to Cigarettes.
- SURGEON GENERAL WARNING: Tobacco Smoke Increases the Risk of Lung Cancer and Heart Disease, Even in Nonsmokers.

VIDEO GAMES

Advertising for video games and computer software must contain an audio and video disclosure of the ESRB (Entertainment Software Rating Board) rating. Extreme violence, dangerous and imitable behavior, anti-social behavior and sexual themes are not acceptable. Advertising for M-Rated video games will be accepted on a case-by-case basis and will be dayparted.

VIRAL MARKETING IN DISPLAY ADVERTISING

On the Online Services, non-incentivized viral marketing (“tell a friend” or other marketing efforts that rely on one person transmitting a marketing message or offer to others) may be permitted in display advertising only if all the following conditions are met: (i) the “tell a friend” or viral element must be limited to 5 or fewer “friends;” (ii) the “friends” information must be collected and used only to transmit a communication about the marketing or advertisement and this is disclosed to users on the data collection page, and (iii) the offer or advertisement may not come from or mention one or more of the Online Services in the subject line of any email sent as a result of a viral marketing program.

Advertising in support of products, services or promotions that contain an incentivized viral marketing component (campaigns which reward the user, whether monetarily or with additional sweepstakes entries, prizes, bonus “points”, etc., for forwarding a message to one or more friends or acquaintances), is not permitted on the Online Services.

VISUALS & SUPERS

Visual disclaimers cannot be used to contradict or materially alter a claim. When superimposed copy is used to qualify advertising claims it must be presented so it can be read easily against a plain contrasting background and must be located within a safe title area of the television screen.

Visual disclaimers should be a preferred vertical size of 54 lines and in an anti-aliased font. The first line should appear on screen for at least 4 seconds. Each additional line should appear for 1 second. (e.g. 6 seconds for a 3-line disclaimer). As a general rule, visual disclaimers should appear in a font that is easy to read and remain on the screen long enough to be noticed, read, and understood by an average viewer and audio disclaimers should be clear and loud enough to be easily heard and understood by an average viewer.

The use of horizontal crawls in the lower 1/3 of the screen is unacceptable.

The use of QR codes in advertisements is acceptable, provided the information contained in and/or gathered by the QR code complies with these guidelines and all applicable law.

WEIGHT LOSS PRODUCTS/SERVICES

Advertising for any products or services for the reduction, gain or control of weight products may not depict or be specifically targeted to children or teens and must comply with established nutritional evidence and medical opinion.

Weight loss advertising must disclose that weight loss is achieved as part of a healthy, reduced-calorie diet and exercise program.

Advertising that includes mentions of specific amounts of weight loss or the rate of weight loss that consumers can expect must comply with the following:

1. Mentions of specific weight loss amounts must be accompanied by a disclosure of the amount of time it took to lose the weight (e.g. “I lost 4 pounds in two weeks.”).
2. Mentions of specific weight loss amounts must include a disclaimer that “Results are not typical” or “Results may vary.”
3. When a featured consumer lost weight at a rate faster than what can be expected by the typical consumer, there must be a disclosure containing what the typical consumer can expect to lose or experience in the depicted circumstances (e.g. “most women who follow our plan for 6 months lose at least 15 pounds”).
4. Weight loss testimonials must be accompanied by an affidavit from each consumer and, if a specific amount of weight loss is mentioned, the affidavit must include the amount of weight and the length of time it took to achieve the loss.

All weight loss claims must be supported by valid and reliable scientific evidence. Studies must provide strong evidence that the advertised product, as part of a diet and exercise program, resulted in weight loss above and beyond weight loss caused by diet and exercise alone. Study subjects should be representative of the targeted audience.

The FTC has issued a document that warns against deceptive weight loss claims entitled Gut Check: A Reference Guide for Media on Spotting False Weight Loss Claims. Advertisements must comply with the Federal Trade Commission guidelines. Consistent with the FTC's recommendations, Comcast will not accept claims that a weight loss product:

- A. Causes weight loss of two pounds or more a week for a month or more without dieting or exercise;
- B. Causes substantial weight loss no matter what or how much the consumer eats;

WEIGHT LOSS PRODUCTS/SERVICES

- C. Causes permanent weight loss even after the consumer stops using product;
- D. Blocks the absorption of fat or calories to enable consumers to lose substantial weight;
- E. Safely enables consumers to lose more than three pounds per week for more than four weeks;
- F. Causes substantial weight loss for all users; or
- G. Causes substantial weight loss by wearing it on the body or rubbing it into the skin.
